How did the Fund perform last year?

The AdvisorShares Pure Cannabis ETF (ticker: YOLO) experienced markedly positive returns during the fiscal year ended June 30, 2024.

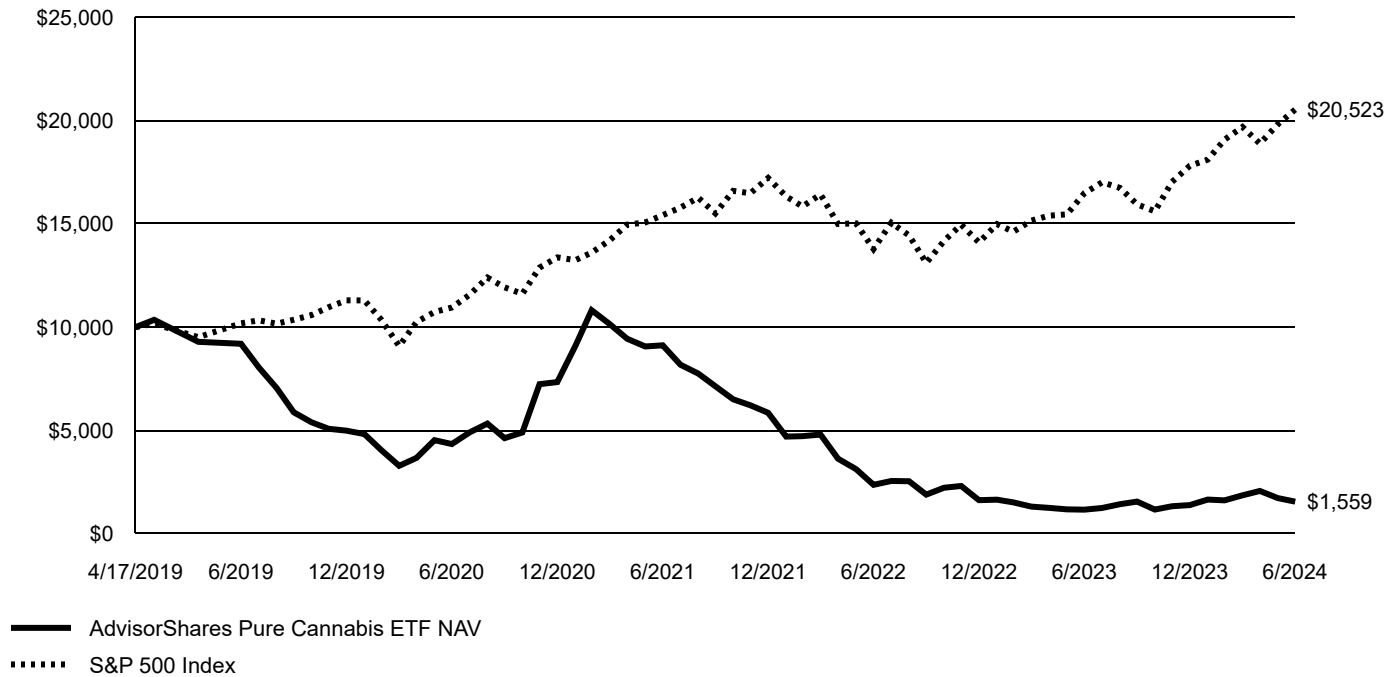

YOLO's strong performance aligns with a global trend towards more lenient cannabis regulations, encompassing recreational, medicinal, and decriminalized use. Countries are motivated to eliminate illicit markets, generate tax revenues, improve public health, and address the social consequences of cannabis prohibition. As perceptions of cannabis evolve, more nations are likely to adopt progressive regulatory approaches, similar to the legalization efforts seen in Germany, South Africa, Spain, Portugal, and Malta.

Despite current price levels and ongoing volatility, we remain highly optimistic about the global cannabis market. We anticipate significant positive changes, particularly driven by potential shifts in U.S. cannabis regulations, including the possible Federal rescheduling of cannabis from Schedule I to Schedule III of the Controlled Substances Act.

The Fund's past performance is not a good predictor of how the Fund will perform in the future. The graph and table do not reflect the deduction of taxes that a shareholder would pay on Fund distributions or redemption of Fund shares.

* The price used to calculate market return ("Market Price") is determined by using the closing price listed on the exchange included at the beginning of this shareholder report and does not represent returns an investor would receive if shares were traded at other times. Total returns are calculated using the daily 4:00pm midpoint between the bid and offer. Shares are bought and sold at market price, not NAV, and are not individually redeemed from the Fund.

The S&P 500 Index is a broad-based, unmanaged measurement of changes in stock market conditions based on the average of 500 widely held common stocks.

Investments involve risk. Principal loss is possible. Redemptions are limited and often commissions are charged on each trade. The Fund may be non-diversified and may be more sensitive to economic, business, political or other changes affecting individual issuers or investments than a diversified fund, which may result in greater fluctuation in the value of the Fund's shares and greater risk of loss. Unlike mutual funds, ETFs may trade at a premium or discount to their net asset value.
